Congratulations! You've completed the "How to Create Successful ELearning Courses" workshop!

I really hope that you found this course useful and that it has helped you move forward in your instructional design and eLearning journey.

This is a journey that never ends and, with every step it gets easier and easier, and more and more rewarding.

So what's next for you?

You can join me in my complete Instructional Design for ELearning program. This program will help you apply all the theoretical knowledge and put it to practice. Through examples, case studies, exercises, and quizzes, you'd be able to create fantastic, result-oriented, objective-based training solutions. In my Instructional Design for ELearning program, I share the best practices that top instructional designers use and adhere to and how you can apply them to your own courses.

I am now offering a massive $50 discount to all if my Udemy students. Just use the code: Udemy

Learn more about this program here:
https://yourelearningworld.thinkific.com/bundles/instructional-design-for-elearning-program

Subscribe to my newsletter and be the first to get notified about latest course design and eLearning tips, tricks, and updates! www.yourelearningworld.com/newsletter

Download my FREE 180+ free elearning tools book and start creating amazing training on a shoestring budget! www.yourelearningworld.com

Read my Instructional Design for ELearning Book: Essential guide to creating successful eLearning courses: https://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B078RNDCRH/

Stay in touch and keep me posted with your eLearning journey!

Marina.